

Emergency Management & Safety Solutions

Emergency Response Training

Floor Warden Training: Designed to educate your Emergency Response Team members on the rationale of basic emergency procedures. The focus is on responsibilities of the ERT members, site-specific emergency procedures, and a discussion of the life safety features of the building.

Two-hour course $495 for up to 30 people.

Earthquake Preparation At Home & At Work: The emphasis of this class is on planning for an earthquake through assembly of emergency supplies, food and water, mitigation of non-structural hazards, and familiarity with utility shut off switches.

One -hour course $395 for up to 30 people.

The Earthquake Game: This interactive class provides a unique opportunity for students to address prioritizing and decision-making issues surrounding earthquake preparedness in the workplace. Students are presented with a disaster scenario. They are trapped in the building and asked to prioritize their actions, and determine what supplies are most essential. After problem solving individually and in-groups, students compare their decisions with the experts.

Two-hour course $495 for up to 30 people.

Fire Safety: This class discusses fire safety at home and work emphasizing prevention, causation, survival techniques, and evacuation & relocation procedures.

Two-hour course $495 for up to 30 people.

Urban Search And Rescue: The objective is to familiarize the student with the basic skills, procedures and techniques used when searching for trapped co-workers. The format includes assessment of a disaster environment, the capabilities and limitations of the lay rescuer, organization of the rescue effort, search techniques, as well as lifting and moving debris and victims.

Two-hour course $495 for up to 30 people.

First Response First Aid: The primary focus is on immediate care for major life-threatening emergencies assuming that 9-1-1 is available. Can also be combined with a CPR course.

One-hour course $395 per 30 people.

First Aid & Emergency Care: Students learn needed critical emergency care techniques before help arrives. The course covers the priorities of first aid, wounds, poisoning, burns, shock, head injuries, and sudden illness.

Two-hour course $495 per 30 people.

Fundamental First Aid: This class focuses on priorities of first aid in life-threatening emergencies: bleeding, poisoning, burns, shock and practice with dressings and splints. It concludes with interactive, decision-making scenarios and a test. Students who pass the course receive a three-year course completion card.

Four-hour course $38 per person + $5 per book.

Triage First Aid: Students learn to set priorities when dealing with more than one victim and review the basic first aid techniques for treating life-threatening emergencies. The lecture is followed by a unique opportunity for students to exercise their knowledge of first aid and triage through participation in disaster simulations. Students who pass the course receive a three-year course completion card.

Four-hour course $38 per person + $5 per book.

Disaster First Aid: This course combines Fundamental First Aid techniques with Triage First Aid. Simulated disasters provide students with an opportunity to experience first hand the conflicts and chaos of disaster first aid, and how to win confidence in his or her ability to rise to the challenge. Students who pass the course receive a three-year course completion card.

Five-hour course $48 per person + $5 per book.

All courses have a minimum enrollment of ten & are held on site at your facility. Prices do not reflect mileage & instructor travel fees.